

About the Plateau Valley Friends of the Library

Our Thirtieth Year

The Plateau Valley Friends of the Library (Friends) is celebrating its thirtieth year in support of literacy and library services in Plateau Valley. On January 23, 1991 the Plateau Valley Friends of the Library was registered as a nonprofit corporation with the Colorado Secretary of State, for the purpose, as stated in the By-Laws of the Corporation:

The purpose of the corporation shall be to maintain an association of persons interested in the Collbran Branch of the Mesa County Public Library; to focus public attention on this library; to stimulate the use of the library's resources and services; to receive and encourage gifts, endowments, and bequests to the library; to support and cooperate with the community; and to support the freedom to read as expressed in the American Library Association Bill of Rights. Said corporation is organized exclusively for charitable, religious, educational and scientific purposes, including, for such purposes, the making of distributions to organizations that qualify as exempt organizations under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law).

The Friends was formed by a group of dedicated library patrons who were committed to finding a new location for the Collbran Branch Library. The Friends were instrumental in finding the library's current home in the Stockmens' Bank Building at 111 Main Street in Collbran and Friends members negotiated the transfer of the ownership of the building from then owners Mike Martin and his family to the Town of Collbran.

The Stockmens' Bank Building, which was built in 1929, and now houses the Collbran Branch Library and its collection of books.

The Collbran Branch Library has been providing library services to the public for twenty-four years at its 111 Main Street location and is getting stronger every year. The Friends have remained as supporters of the Library and continues to support literacy as was its intent from its inception in 1991.

The Friends use donations and grants to support literacy and library programming throughout the Plateau Valley and Mesa County.
